2009
Part 2

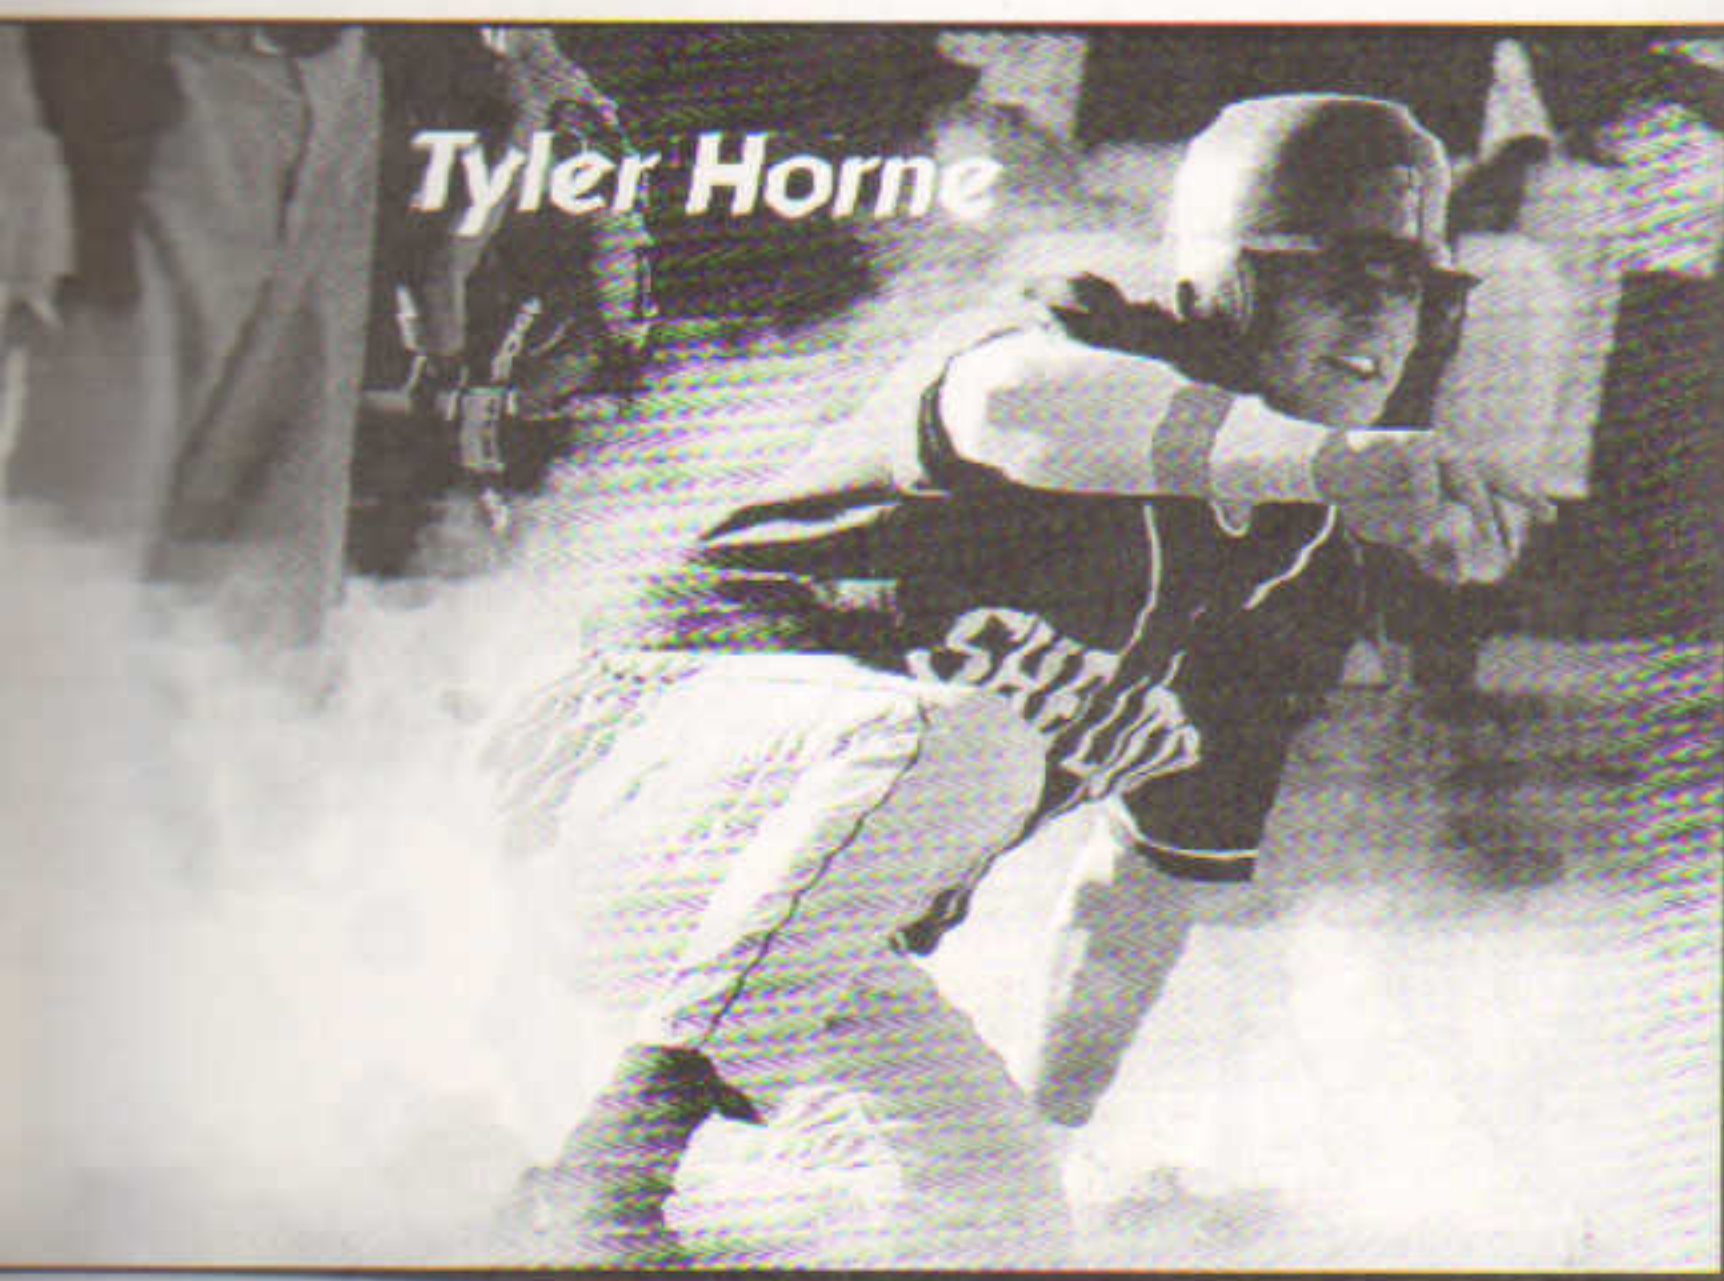

onal

The 2008 Shelton State baseball team made winning its second straight state title. the most successful season in the 24-year of Shelton State baseball, a season that ed in the school's second ACCC State Title, ons were never higher for the Bucs than they ering the 2008 season.

he talk centered around the idea that if was able to build off its success from the season and maximize its potential, the ies for the team were endless. The Bucs 16 players from the 2007 season, hoping to antage of the experience and leadership of omore class.

hen all was said and done, Shelton State put ust the 5th 40-win season in the history of the and accomplished the feat in back-to-back the first time since the 2000-2001 campaigns. 's 48 wins, combined with the previous 6 victories, was the best two-year streak in history.

elton was paced by a potent lineup a pair of sophomores – catcher Clay Jones baseman Tyler Horne – stepped up as the team in their final campaigns.

Out of the Gates

If expectations were abound for the 2008 Bucs, Shelton State certainly gave its fans reason to believe in the potential that was seen in the club before the start of the season. Shelton burst out of the gates, winning 10 of its first 15 games while traveling around the state of Florida. That stretch included an opening series sweep of Alabama Southern and a 3-game set of wins in Okaloosa-Walton.

Welcome to the ACCC Conference

Year in and year out, the ACCC is known as one of the finest baseball conferences in the state. The league's teams have proven their worth with their competitiveness and postseason success.

Facing a difficult Jeff State team, Shelton took the series winning all 3 games 9-6, 11-3 and 7-0 respectively. The next two weekends saw Shelton facing stiff competition in Northwest Shoals and Wallace-State Hanceville. Shelton dropped all 6 games facing one of the top hurlers in the state – Craig Kimbrel. In order for Shelton to defend their state title, the Bucs had to step up to the competition after 6 straight losses to conference opponents.

The Bucs answered with consecutive series wins over Lawson State, Marion Military Institute, Gadsden State, Beville State – Sumiton, Snead State and Beville State – Fayette. The Bucs would enter the State Tournament with a third place seeding finishing the regular season behind Northwest Shoals and Wallace-State Hanceville.

Finding Their Way Back

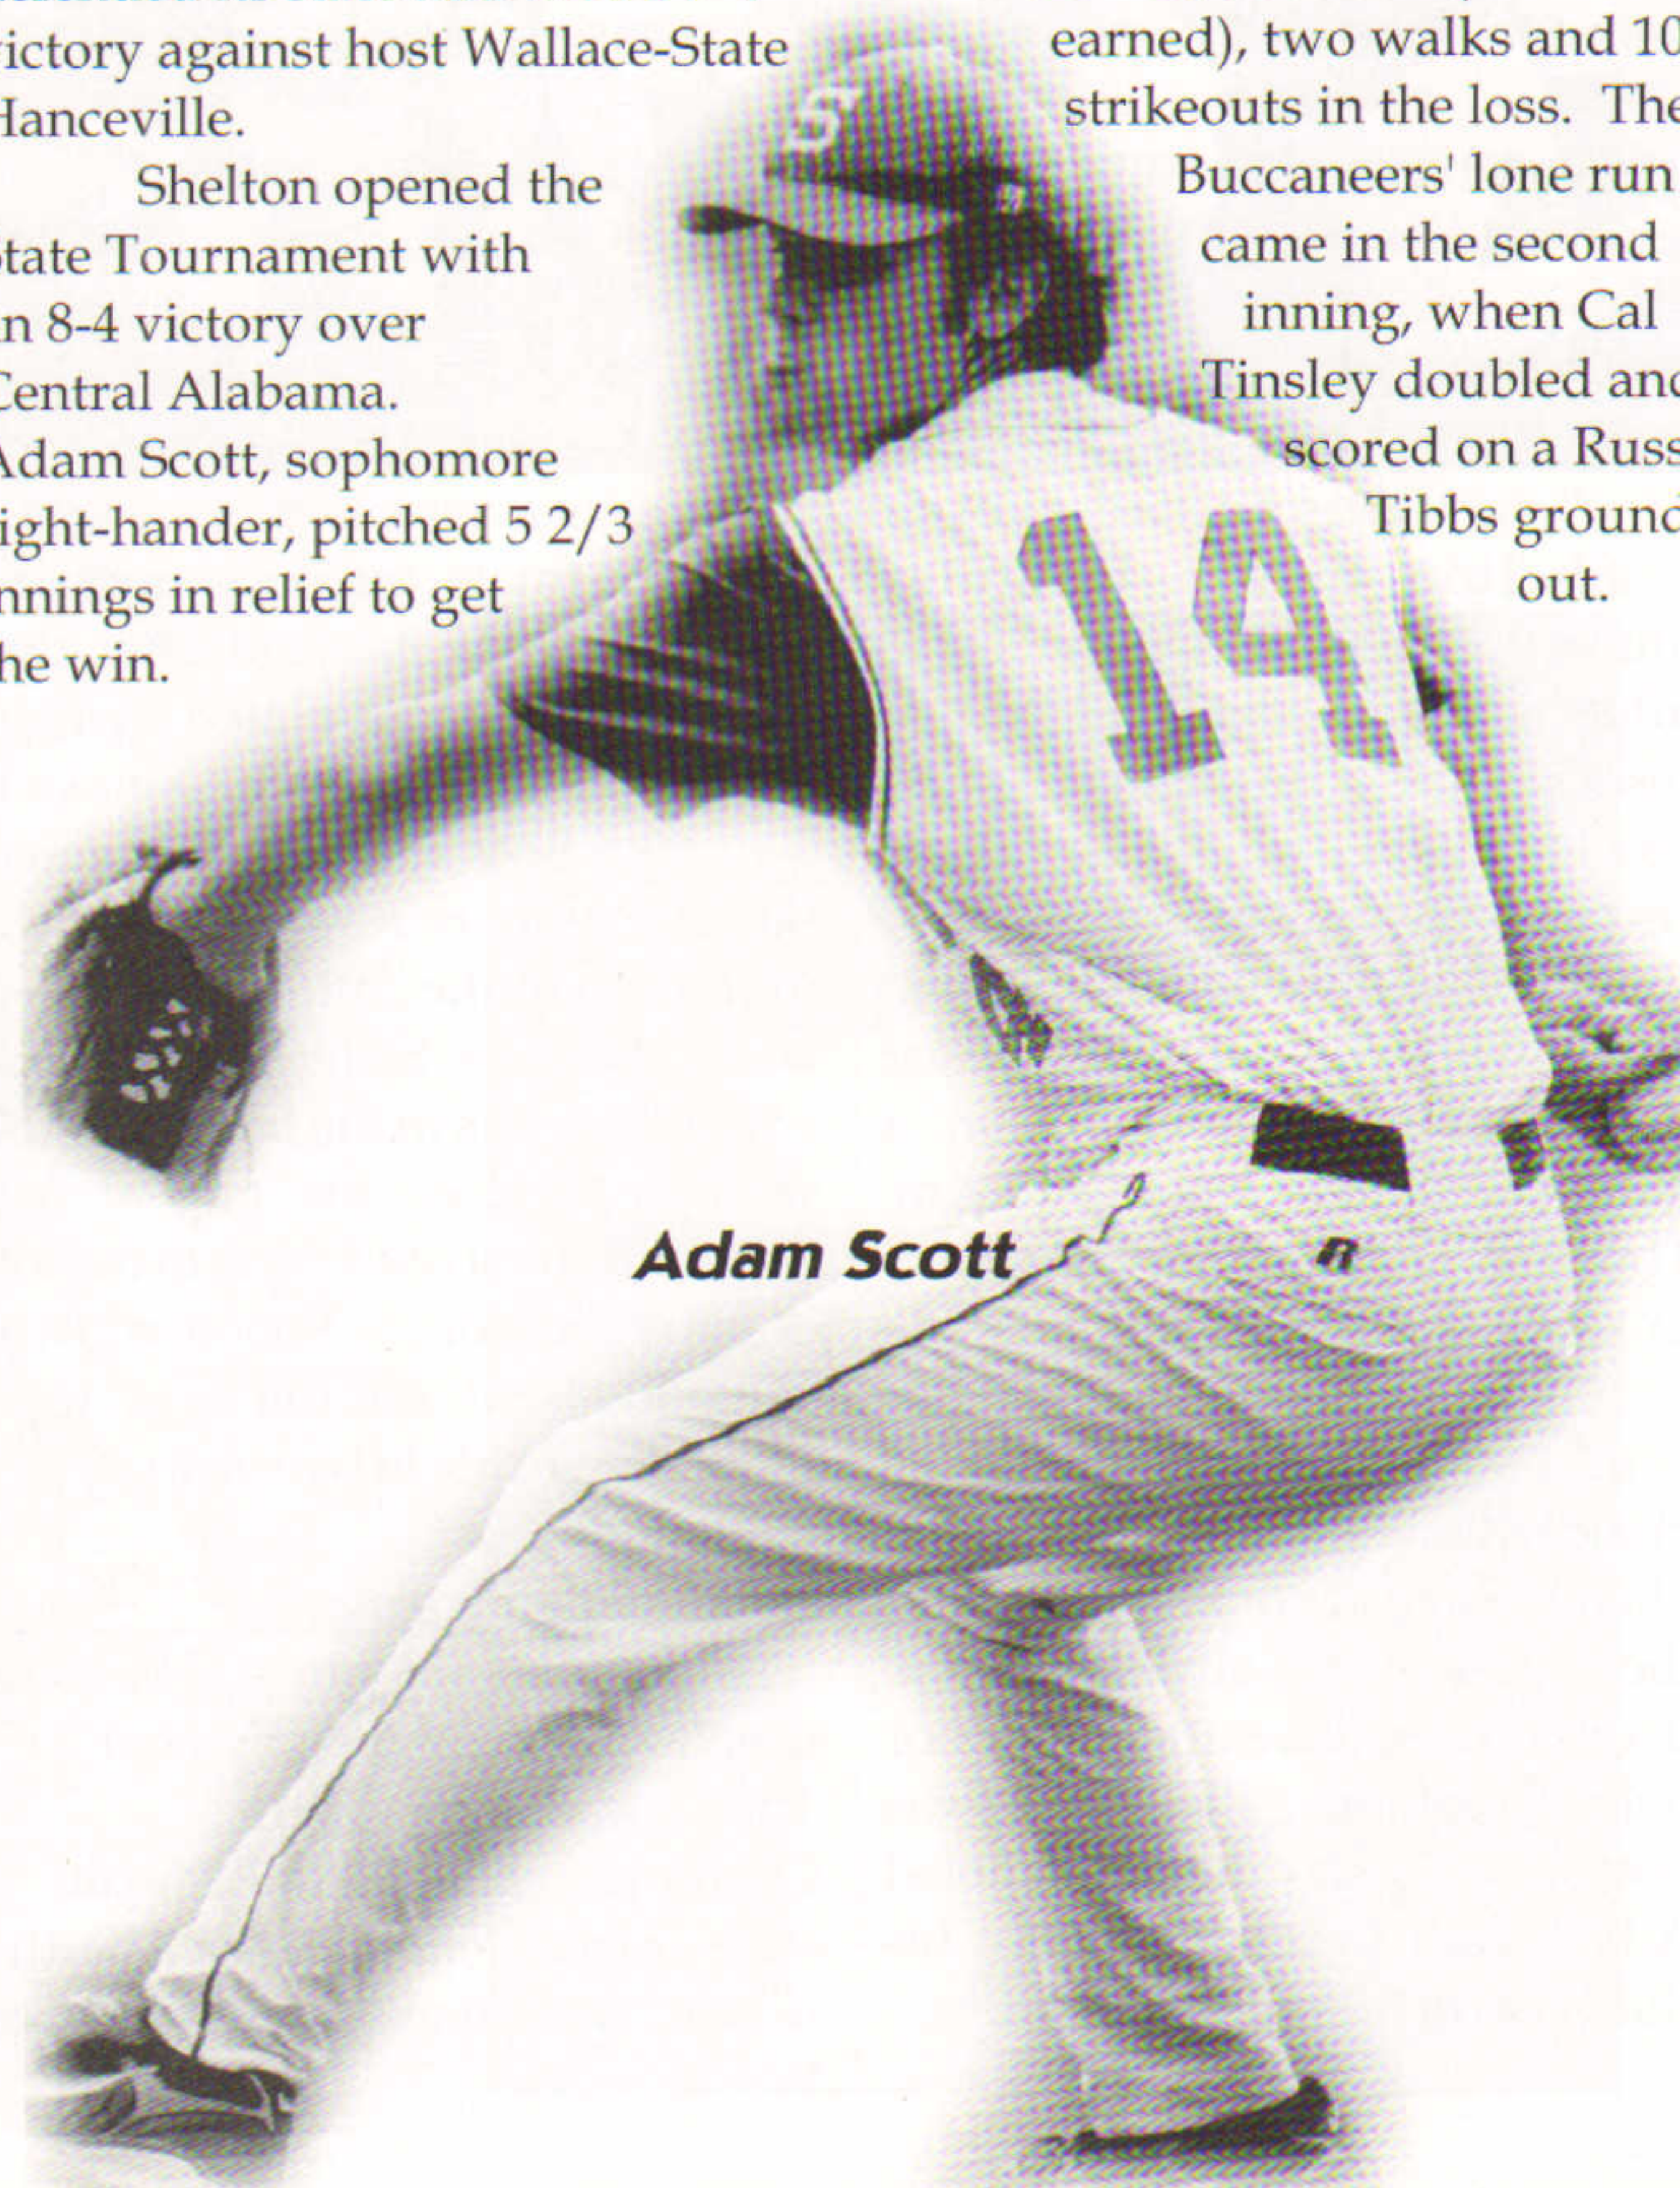

There's taking the long road, and then there's what the Shelton State Bucs baseball team did during the week of the State Tournament. Keyed by a hot start and a three-run fifth inning against Wallace-Hanceville in the finale, not only did the Buccaneers survive the week-long Alabama Community College Conference tournament, but successfully defended its state title with a 7-4 victory against host Wallace-State Hanceville.

Shelton opened the State Tournament with an 8-4 victory over Central Alabama. Adam Scott, sophomore right-hander, pitched 5 2/3 innings in relief to get the win.

Game Two of the ACCC State Tournament featured Shelton versus Alabama Southern. Shelton defeated Alabama Southern 3-1 to advance in the tournament. Game Three featured a premiere match-up against host Wallace-State Hanceville. However, Shelton State lost 2-1 to host Wallace-State Hanceville. Sophomore right-hander, Justin Bussey, threw 7 2/3 innings, with six hits, two runs (one earned), two walks and 10 strikeouts in the loss. The Buccaneers' lone run came in the second inning, when Cal Tinsley doubled and scored on a Russ Tibbs ground out.

Shelton State's irregular journey to the title game came after an early detour into the loser's bracket, due to the 2-1 loss to Hanceville. The Bucs responded with a 10-3 drubbing of Central Alabama and then came back the same night to defeat Chattahoochee Valley 7-4 in a game that started close to 10 p.m. The 7-4 victory was Shelton's third in a little more than 24 hours.

The Buccaneers earned a rematch with Wallace-State Hanceville, resulting in another Shelton State victory, 9-3, to set up the winner-takes-all showdown. Because of bad weather and poor field conditions, the finale was postponed a day which enabled Adam Scott to start and earn his third win in the tournament.

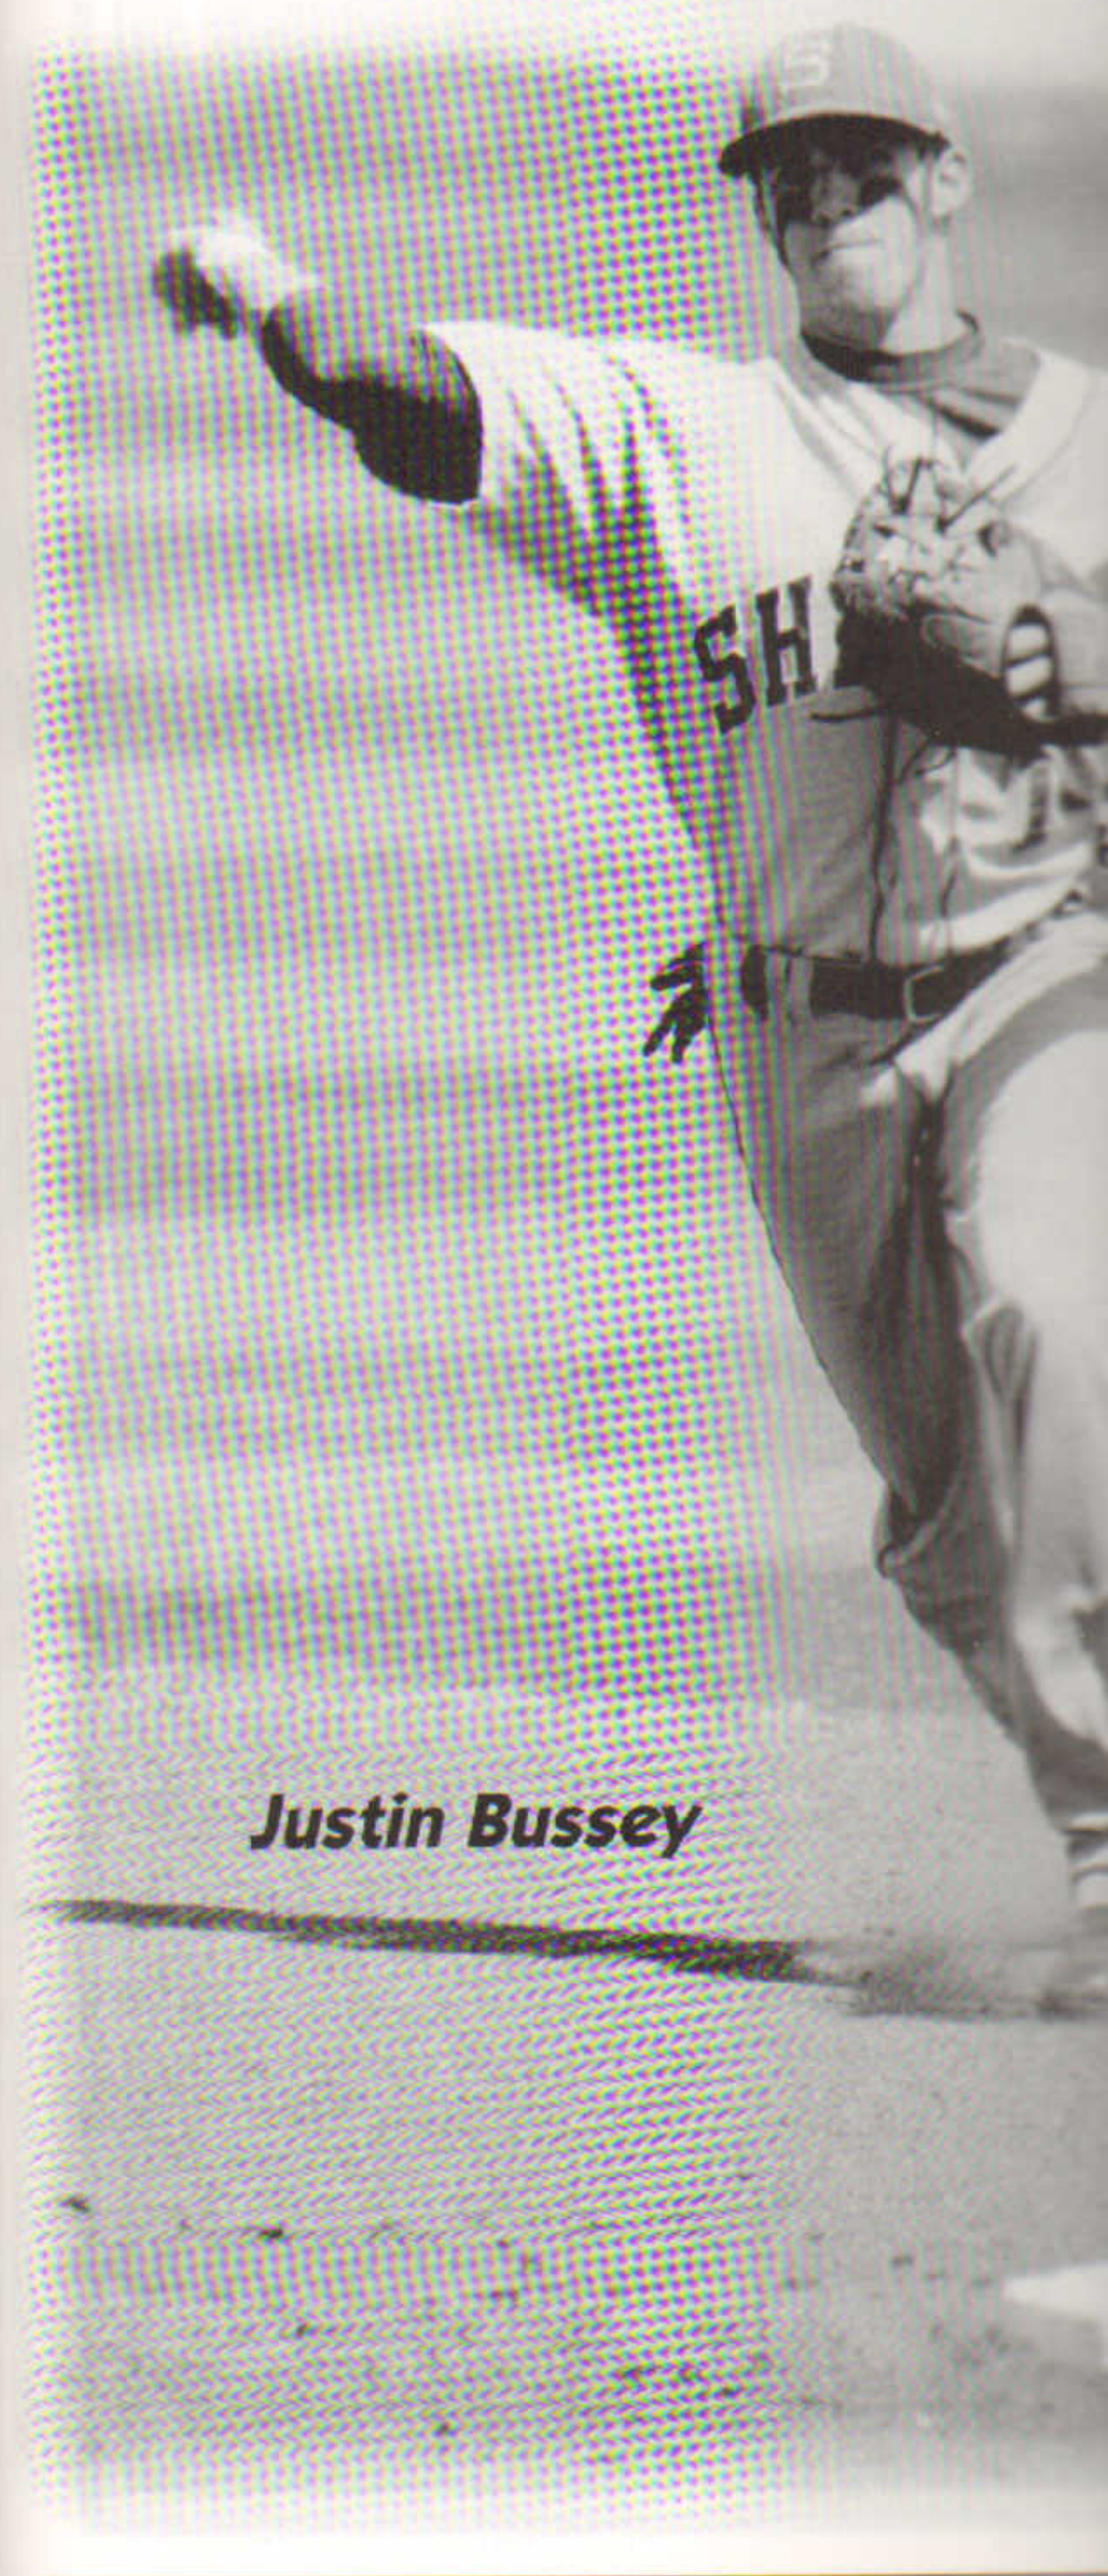

In the finale, the Bucs jumped out to an early 3-0 lead after two innings. The Lions plated a run in the bottom of the fourth to make it 3-1. The Bucs however answered with three more runs of their own in the top of the fifth to take a 6-1 lead. Wallace State battled back with three runs in the bottom of the seventh to close the gap at 6-4. Shelton State scored a run in the top of the eighth for the final margin of 7-4 and went on the win their second state title in two years.

Finishing Strong

To say Shelton State was battle-tested was an understatement. The Southeastern District Champions survived a difficult state tournament to clinch a berth in the Alpine Bank Junior College World Series.

A five-run eighth inning lifted Shelton State past Johnson County in the opening game of the JUCO World Series. It took until the eighth inning, but Shelton State scored five runs to win 8-4 against Johnson County. Jonathan Smart did the job he needed to in Game Two of the JUCO World Series and allowed the offense to do the rest. The Bucs used two big innings and the long relief of Smart to defeat Iowa Western 10-2 and stay undefeated. Game Three for the Bucs had them facing a hot Grayson County, Texas team. The Grayson County Vikings hot bats lead them past Shelton 13-2 in five innings, pushing Shelton into the loser's bracket of the JUCO World Series. The Bucs rebounded and defeated Hagerstown, Maryland 11-0 which featured Adam Scott tossing a one-hitter to keep the Bucs title hopes alive. The Buccaneer win allowed them to play for the Title versus Grayson County. The Bucs to defeat the Vikings twice in order to win the National Title. The Bucs lost again 13-2 and were eliminated from the JUCO World Series but taking home the Runner-Up crown.

Justin Bussey

All was not lost for Shelton as it improved upon its 2007 performance finishing 4-2 in the JUCO World Series Tournament. The Bucs landed three players on the All-Tournament Team, led by catcher Clay Jones who made his second straight appearance after being selected to the 2007 All-Tournament Team as well.

"It was an incredible run and we played our best but we're all happy to come out here and compete for the state of Alabama," Jones Said. "I will remember this for the rest of my life."

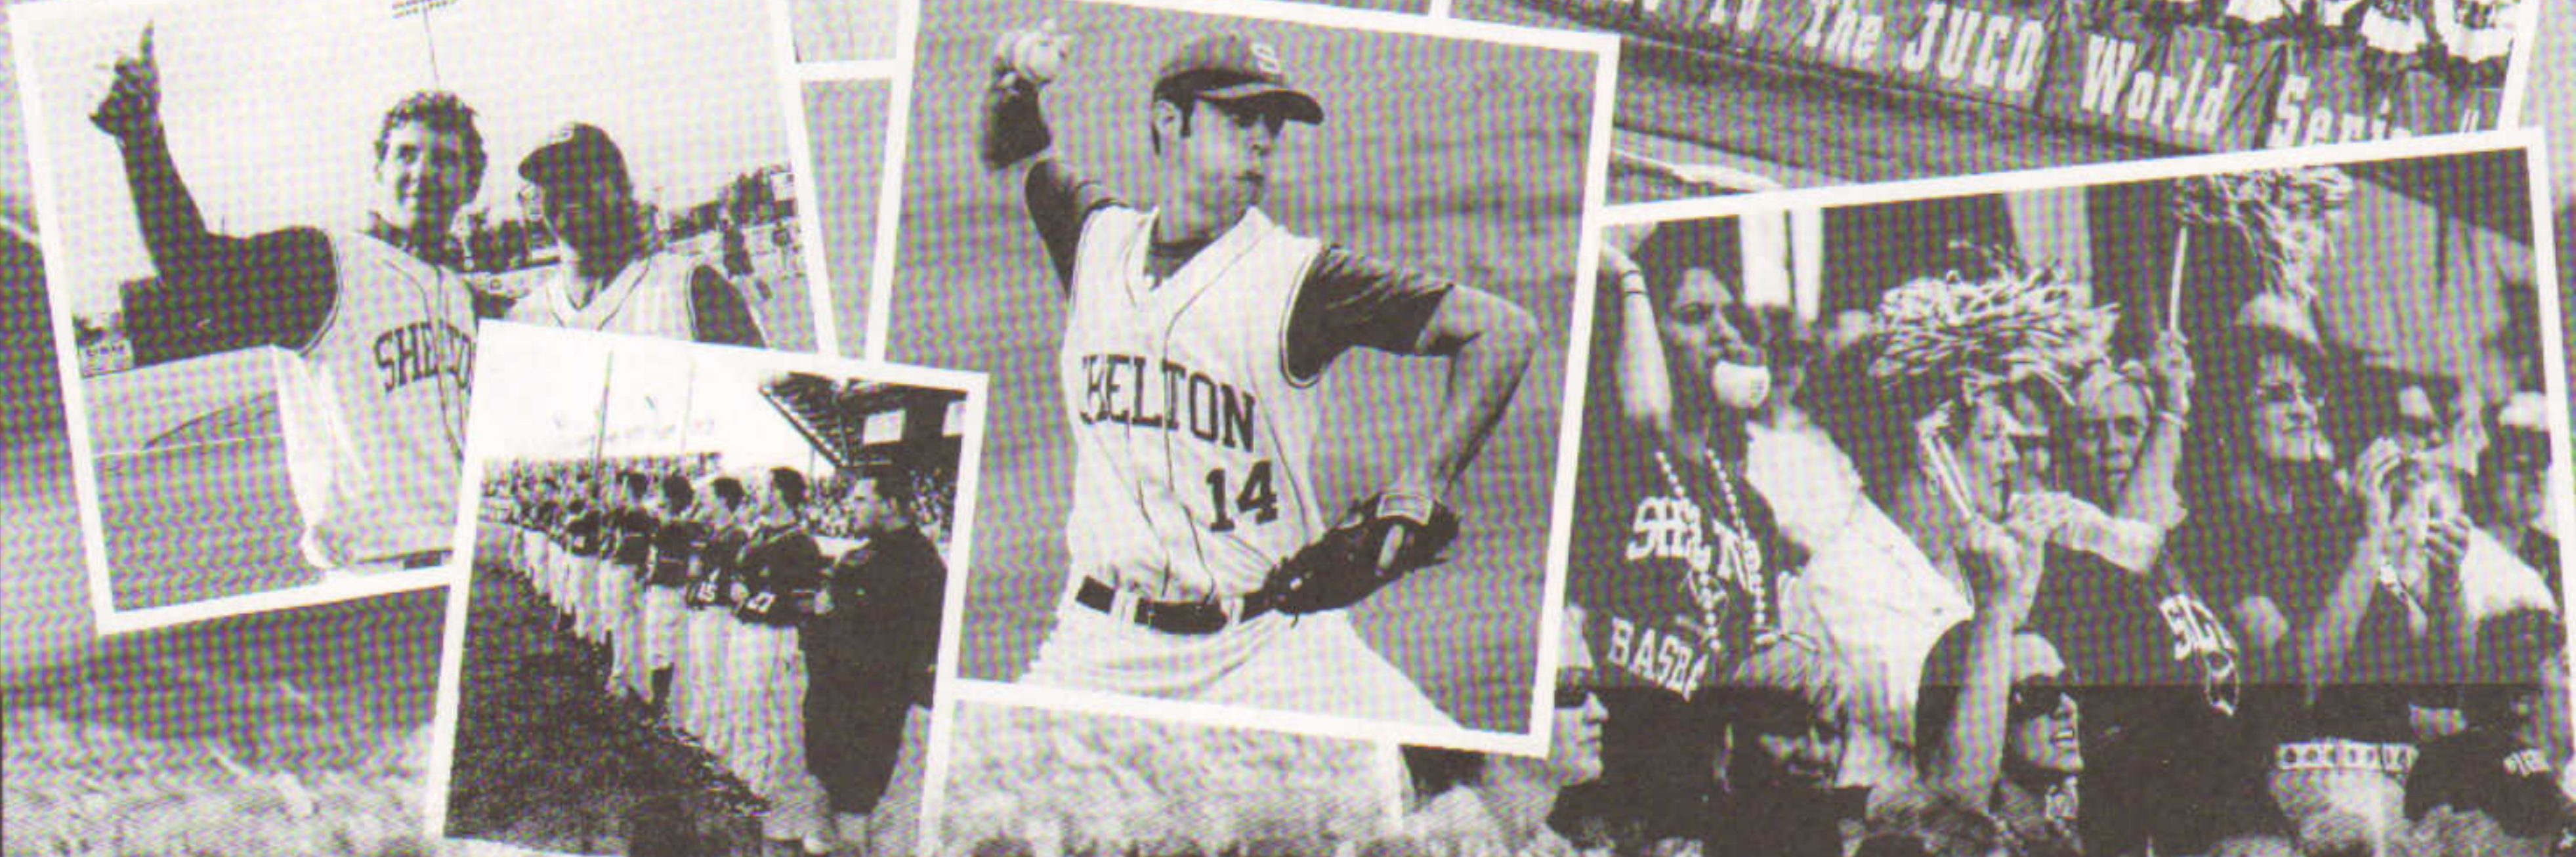

Third baseman Tyler Horne and pitcher Adam Scott were both selected to the All-Tournament Team as well.

For Head Coach Bobby Sprowl, the opportunity to play in the World Series two straight seasons was something he will cherish.

"We play in such a tough league that it is so hard to win our tournament," Sprowl said. "Hopefully we will have a chance to get back here next year."
